Margins365 — Refunds and cancellation policy

Version 20 · Effective date: 11 November 2026 · Approved

This policy explains how cancelling and refunds work for Margins365. It forms part of our Terms.

1. The free trial

Every plan starts with a 14-day free trial of the plan you choose. You add a card at checkout and pay nothing today. If you do not cancel before the trial ends, your chosen plan is charged automatically on day 15 — the normal price, or the founding price if you hold a founding place (50% off your first 6 monthly payments, or 25% off the first year on an annual plan). We email you a reminder before the first charge, showing the amount and date.

2. How to cancel

Only the account owner can cancel.

1. Sign in and open Plan & billing.
2. Choose Cancel trial or Cancel subscription.
3. Check the date shown and, if you want, download your data. You can tell us why you are leaving — this is optional.
4. Choose Confirm cancel.

That is all. We email a confirmation with the key dates. We do not accept cancellation by email or phone, and you never need to contact us to cancel. If you cancel through Link's subscription tools instead, we treat it the same way.

3. What happens after you cancel

You cancel…	Charges	Access until	Then
During the trial	None	The trial end date	Account closed, data deleted
A paid plan	No further renewals	The end of the period you paid for	Account closed, data deleted

When access ends, your login is removed and all product data (orders, costs, results, shops, team links and settings) is permanently deleted. Backups are cleared within 7 days. Download your data before the date shown. Until then you can undo the cancellation in Plan & billing. A later sign-up is a new, empty account and does not get the founding offer again.

4. Refunds

- First payment: you can ask for a full refund within 14 days of your first successful payment — including when that payment is the first charge after your free trial. Once per customer.
- How to ask: use the Contact us form in the Help centre (margins365.com/help) with your account email and the payment date. Do not send card details.
- What happens: we refund to the original payment method within 14 days of agreeing the refund. Access ends at once and your data is deleted, so download it first.
- Later payments: not refunded in part, including when you cancel part-way through a period. You keep access until the period ends.
- Founding places: refunding the first payment releases the founding place.

5. Your legal rights

Margins365 is a service for businesses. If the law treats you as a consumer, you also have the statutory rights that apply where you live, including any right to cancel a distance contract within 14 days and remedies if the service is not provided with reasonable care and skill. You can use those rights by sending a clear statement through the Help centre contact form or at info.marginos@gmail.com. This policy does not reduce those rights.

6. Questions

Contact us through the Help centre form or at info.marginos@gmail.com. These channels are not a way to cancel — the owner cancels in Plan & billing.
